EARLY JAM: 3:00 PM - 5:00 PM Every 3rd Sunday - Rise Up Singing Open Jam All welcome.	Open Mic 3 10-minute slots.	Anna p.s. www.annapsmusic.com Indie folk musician Anna p.s. conveys a sense of weariness throughout her simple but resonant songs, but it's a weariness that keeps a blanket of hope tucked up under its chin, even as the rain keeps falling outside the windows. Grace always lurks around the corner on tunes that layer delicate vulnerability over the hearty stock of this songwriter's spirit. A Leo Debut!	Woodnote Woodnote plays an eclectic mix of Americana, folk and classic rock music paired with rich harmonies. Woodnote's music includes Dylan, The Beatles, The Eagles, Linda Ronstadt Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Brandy Carlile, Drive By Truckers and the Jayhawks as well as original music. Woodnote is Marie Frondorf, acoustic guitar and percussion; Paul McCalmont, acoustic guitar, banjo, bass and mandolin; Norm Heck, bass and acoustic guitar; Bob Littmann, acoustic guitar, mandolin and bass; Pam Rosenacker; keyboards. Everybody sings. Woodnote rocks the roots! Visit our page on Facebook for songs and upcoming shows.

Open Jam, Founders Hall	David Mason www.reverbnation.com/davehedgehogmason No, not THAT Dave Mason...but a strong guitarist and singer nonetheless. David will bring some original songs and some favorite cover tunes.	Charlie Mosbrook www.charliemosbrook.com For over 25 years, folk music has had an enthusiastic and dedicated voice in Charlie Mosbrook. His rich baritone voice and noteworthy fingerstyle guitar work highlight his performance of original and traditional folk songs, along with his nimble and candid stage presence.	Wild Carrot & their Roots Band www.wildcarrot.net CD Release! Get your copy tonight! "Wild Carrot made art that lifted us out of our seats. How could music so beautifully transcendent be so wonderfully fun at the same time?" – Tina Salamone, Executive Director, Burlington Capitol Theater

Open Jam, Founders Hall Workshop Ukulele workshop with Butch Ross! (he'll take a dulcimer question or two as well if there's time)	Open Mic 3 10-minute slots.	Megan Bee www.meganbeemusic.com As a naturalist, traveler, and farmer Megan Bee's music rings with an unquenchable wanderlust and a raw love for the land. True folk-Americana blends over a distinctly homespun voice and an acoustic simplicity. From the rolling hills of Athens, Ohio and frequently roaming the country, she first found her voice around a campfire in the middle of a desert wilderness. Her recent studio album Like a Canyon , features members of the Mountain Stage Band. A Leo debut!	Butch Ross www.butchross.com Chattanooga multi-instrumentalist and mountain dulcimer maestro Butch Ross has tackled everything from Radiohead to Bach and come away with a renewed appreciation for what the humble dulcimer is capable of. No genre is off-limits, nor is there a limit to what Ross has envisioned for this specific instrument.

EARLY JAM: 3:00 PM - 5:00 PM Every 3rd Sunday - Rise Up Singing Open Jam All welcome. Workshop Songwriting workshop with Mark Stuart! The workshop will address: Cutting out the clutter; Adding that "magic" chord/taking out excess chords; Editing and re-writing many drafts over time to sculpt a great song; Stepping out of your norm and trying other types of songs or styles; The value in co-writing, learning how to be a "song doctor" to another writer's piece and how to accept their ideas into your piece. Free to members.	Open Mic 3 10-minute slots.	Tender Bastard https://soundcloud.com/tender-bastard "His writing is like Jack Kerouac and Douglas Adams. There's a thin line between sexiness and absurdity and Mr. Mastro is determined to find it." ~ Tony Norman ~ Pittsburgh Post-Gazette A lyrical, personable style makes tenderbastard performances memorably enjoyable. Topical, humorous, dead-on, tenderbastard mines the humanity of the spirit to make a song-and-story celebration onstage.	Mark Stuart www.markstuart.net Mark Stuart returns for a workshop and set at Leo! Having taken his music to Europe, UK, Canada, and all of USA for decades, the Nashville native will captivate audiences with his songs, singing, and guitarmanishp. The Americana/Folk veteran serves up songs from his Stacey Earle & Mark Stuart CDs, solo CDs, AND reflects on his journey in music. Join him at 5:30p for a songwriting workshop.
